TaxWorkFlow, LLC announced today that it will provide its TaxWorkFlow practice management software free to tax professionals this tax season. The offer will be available to 100 tax firms on a first-come, first-served basis and will include a complete version of the software with instructional support to ensure that the system is implemented smoothly.

TaxWorkFlow was designed to meet the needs of accounting firms for a true practice management solution that streamlines and supports the complete tax preparation process from end-to-end.

TaxWorkFlow combines the processing speed of a PC desktop platform with the enhanced data storage capacity of a cloud-based solution and incorporates many powerful capabilities allowing accounting professionals to control every step of the tax preparation process. The software can be easily customized to each firm's unique workflow for tax preparation and other process-driven client engagements.

“With the hectic pace of tax season right around the corner, we are offering firms that do not have a practice management solution in place or that have one that does not truly streamline their workflow, an affordable way to implement TaxWorkFlow to ease what can be a very stressful time of the year,” said Jonathan Medows, a CPA and TaxWorkFlow, LLC partner. “Firms that are already using TaxWorkFlow are looking forward to handling their busiest time of the year efficiently and productively and enhanced by clear internal and client-facing communication. We believe that having true control over the tax preparation process is something that every firm should be able to afford.”

Tax professionals can learn more about TaxWorkFlow by visiting www.thetaxworkflow.com. Complimentary TaxWorkFlow software is available to professional tax firms by contacting Jonathan Medows at info@thetaxworkflow.com.
